CRAFTSMEN'S ASSOCIATION
OF
BRITISH COLUMBIA
APRIL 1983

We need a sample of your craft to photograph

Illustrated Directory Project Ready To Start!

Thanks to the Emily Carr College of Art and Design, CABC will have access to a fully-equipped photo studio and darkroom for the entire summer of '83 commencing June 1st. We have hired Vancouver photographer, Kelly Enno trained in product photography at Langara Community College, who will act as supervisor of photography for the project.

CABC Executive Director, Gail Rogers has been receiving an average of ten letters a day from prospective members who have read about the directory project in a province-wide series of newspaper advertisements that we placed recently. (CABC acknowledges a generous donation from the Sterling Newspaper chain who placed our ad free of charge.)

Alex Turner and Mary Cooper of the B.C. Research Council have donated their time to CABC to work on the illustrated directory questionnaire and survey which will be mailed out to our members not later than April 29th. CABC volunteer, Fiona Ahrens is looking after this important part of the project.

HOW TO GET YOUR CRAFT SAMPLE PHOTOGRAPHED AND INCLUDED IN THE DIRECTORY.

1. You will receive your questionnaire and survey on or before April 29th. Please complete and return immediately. This step will be considered your application to be included in the illustrated directory.
2. At the same time you will receive a pre-numbered identification label. Please complete it, remove and return the receipt portion (This is an important step for insurance purposes) and attach the tag securely to the craft item you wish photographed. Remember, the initial illustrated directory will be printed in black and white only. When selecting your item please keep this in mind. (However, the photographer will also be shooting in colour for future publications.)
3. Carefully package and protect the item to a standard suitable for shipment by private courier and personally take the item to your local directory representative. This representative will be identified in your questionnaire and has been briefed on how to get it to the CABC photo studios. The same representative will also receive the craft item back from CABC after it has been photographed and you will be contacted to retrieve your item upon completion.
4. If you have any question about the directory project, please do not hesitate to write or call Gail Rogers at the CABC office, (604) 687-6511.

INTERESTED IN HOSTING A VISITING CRAFTSPERSON? A number of B.C. craftspersons will be travelling to and from the Interior between June 1 and September 1 on business connected with the production of the illustrated directory. The CABC office would be pleased to hear from any member, anywhere in the province, who would like to offer overnight accommodation to a travelling crafts-person. Not only will this help to reduce travel costs connected with the project but could prove to be an interesting "inter-craft cultural exchange". Please write to Gafl at the CABC.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO OBSERVE OUR PHOTO SESSIONS? We have openings for two people to observe our photo sessions of crafts for a one week period between June 1 and August 15. This would be of interest to prospective photography students of craftsmen wishing to develop their own photography capabilities.

The Vancouver Museum and Planetarium will be closed for major renovations. As of April 5, the Planetarium will be closed and the closure of the Museum and Gift Shop on April 11. Length of closure is yet not known, but probably into June.

Home Craft Licences - The City of Vancouver requires a Home Craft Licence ($25/year) for anything made in the home, that will be sold. The licence covers small hand-made goods, not machine made ones and the activity is limited to one person working twenty hours per week. The City of North Vancouver requires a business licence ($60 - $72/year) for anything made in the home, that will be sold. However, the occupation must be completely enclosed in the building, must not occupy more than 20% of the floor area and must be conducted by the resident and at most, one other person. Usually such licences are issued to contractors or dress-makers. Richmond Municipality requires a Home Occupation Hobby Licence ($36/year) and issues them for such things as ceramics, fly-making, lamp shade making and seamstressing. There must be no noise, the occupation must be limited to the family residing in the home and there must be no retailing from the home.

CO-OP NEWS

shop gallery

Customers were delighted and very interested by the show in Circle Craft's Gallery last month, Pippa Cherniavsky's non-traditional Ukrainian eggs and Adrian Ross' papier maché birds. They also had an extremely successful opening.

At time of going to press, it has unfortunately been necessary for Ron Tribe to cancel his show. We are now attempting to make alternative arrangements.

SHOP RENOVATIONS. CALLING FOR VOLUNTEERS

From May 7th - May 15th the shop and gallery will be closed for renovations. As much help as possible will be needed. Stock has to be boxed, walls to be painted, also carpentry, floor oiling, etc., etc., etc. All this must be done by volunteers. The intention of this renovation is to increase the retail floor space in the shop, and to make the office/shop/gallery work more efficiently.

Lee Sosnowsky, 946-1721 and Brian McKay, 980-0905 would like to hear from all those just waiting to volunteer their services. PLEASE CALL NOW.

ARTWEAR '83 will open in the newly renovated premises. We already have several people working for this show. Don't forget that there will be fashion shows in Le Magasin Restaurant at lunch time. There is still time for people to show their work in Artwear '83. A new feature this year will be hats by Adrian Ross, there will be beach hats as well as other types of hats.

On an up-beat note, the sales in the shop which have been somewhat dismal are now picking up well and March will not be too much different from last year. Lets hope the trend continues.

GRANVILLE ISLAND SUMMER MARKET

Here it is, a summer market on Granville Island - space for about 50 booths in the building across from the public market. (A consignment area is also available.) The space is in the interior of the building housing the craft studios, Blackberry Books, etc. The three entrances to the 8,500 sq. ft. space will be well marked with signs & banners. See the enclosed application form for details. Contact Circle Craft for further information.

XMAS MARKET

Darlene Jones will be co-managing Christmas with Hugh McLellan. The Board and staff have been seriously analyzing all aspects of the market with the intention of presenting a fresh strong event this year.

Details of the concerns and plans will be sent to all members by early May. Deadline for applications will be June 28th, but an important change in booking will be that craftspeople can reserve a specific booth on payment of their deposits starting May 1st.

We want to start a new feature here in our Newsletter called "Blow Your Own Horn" - share with other members happy events of commissions, large orders, honors, awards, trips, etc., etc. - could be an inspiration and encouragement to us all.

MAKERS SHOWCASE

We have between seventy and eighty registrants for Makers Showcase so we are hoping that shop buyers and the public will respond in kind and come flocking to Robson Square to buy.

Michael Scott Workshop

There is going to be a Michael Scott workshop on the evening of Sunday, May 29th at Robson Square Media Centre. Some of you may remember Michael from our Business of Crafts Conference last October. He is editor of the Craft Report - published in the States and is author of "The Craft Business Encyclopaedia". He makes this somewhat dry subject very interesting and funny. He has consented to come up to speak to participants of Makers Showcase the evening before it opens to answer questions on wholesaling, retailing and other related topics. A buffet supper will be provided.

The Workshop is open to anyone

Fee $10.00 for Makers Showcase participants
15.00 for all others.

Registration Deadline: April 21, 1983.

Makers Showcase participants: Your fees owing are also due April 21st.

CO-OP NEWS

Newsletter Changes

I think it came as something of a shock to many of our members that the last newsletter had reverted to Craft Contacts with Circle Craft relegated to the back.

The new format was felt necessary by the Craftsmen's Association of B.C. because of the enormous cost of postage. Circle Craft has for the time being agreed to be in the newsletter on a similar basis to the Canadian Crafts Council; we basically have no editorial control and only pay a small amount towards the production of the newsletter.

Circle Craft's Board of Directors and myself as editor, decided that in view of the speed of this change we should stay with Craft Contacts for the time being. However, we would like to know if the members are satisfied with this arrangement or would again like their own newsletter.

GAIL FORD

TORONTO GIFT SHOW

Twenty-two members participated in this event. We had a good range of products weaving, silk painting, ceramics, jewellery, screen printing, leather, wood, glass, puppets, and dolls. Our work was well received and we made many good contacts at the show. Our wholesale orders written at the show totaled $13,000 - not a bad start for what could be a profitable ongoing activity. We plan to be back at the September show. Let us know if you would like to participate.

P.S. Many many thanks to Moss Holland and Patricia Bellany for their invaluable volunteer efforts with the show - also thanks to Liz Kowalczyk who helped with set-up.
